The Toll Gate War.

Winchester, Ky., Nov. 27.—The toll gate war has broken out in this county. The raiders destroyed two gates last night and drove away the families of the keepers. They threaten to burn the homes of the county officers if more toll is collected. This is the beginning of the toll gate war in this county.

Floods in the Northwest.

Monte Christo, Wash., Nov. 27.—Floods have washed away the railroads, destroyed many mines, and have rendered hundreds of miners homeless and nothing to eat.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The New Time Card Goes Into Effect Tomorrow.

Mr. Bob Nelson to Again Take the Road, According to Reports.

Copies of the new time card for the Illinois Central railroad, this division, arrived this morning.

The changes made do not differ from those predicted in the Sun several weeks ago. Nos. 321 and 222 will leave Central City at 6 a. m. and arrive here at 10:45 a. m., leaving here at 5:30 p. m. The night trains will not be changed, but the train which now arrives at 12:10 p. m. will arrive at 2:20 p. m. The other train will arrive at 2:55 p. m. and leave at 3 o'clock, while the St. Louis train will be due ten minutes later.

The Home sleepers have been taken off the trains of this division and Pullman sleepers substituted. It is understood that the sleepers "Paducah," "Louisville" and "Memphis" will be run between Memphis and Evansville.

On December 1, according to reports, Yard Master Bob Nelson will resign and take a permanent position on the road, and will be succeeded by Mr. Bob McCann, formerly union depot yard master and now assistant yard master. Mr. Nelson gave up the yard mastership several weeks ago on account of his health, but resumed it after recovering.

Mr. E. W. Huntley, until recently special agent of the I. C. here, killed S. H. Shiley, a constable at Leland, Miss., last evening. A dispatch says:

Leland, Miss., Nov. 26.—S. H. Shiley, a constable in Squire Garrison's court, was killed at 6:10 this evening by C. W. Huntley, a special agent of the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley railroad. It is impossible to get reliable information of the cause of the killing. After the shooting Huntley, who is thought to have acted in self defense, gave himself up to A. A. Rose, deputy marshal, and by his request was carried by a private conveyance to Greenville to await preliminary trial.

ONCE AT KLONDIKE.

An Interesting Interview With Mr. R. M. River, Who Struck It Rich in the Frozen North.

He Will Be Married to Mrs. Fraley Tomorrow or Monday, and Return to Klondike.

Mr. R. M. River is the name of a man who came all the way to Kentucky from Klondike for a wife. At least when he leaves Paducah he will carry away with him as a bride Mrs. Maggie Fraley, who has been in charge of Scott's restaurant, on Second street, near Court, for some little time.

Mr. River's home is in Lexington, Ky., and he is 42 years old, but his constitution is like iron, and there are few places from the equator to the arctic circle which he has not at some time visited.

A Sun reporter ran across Mr. River this morning and found him a most entertaining talker. He is the inventor of a patent pressed air washer, which he claims nets him an average of $6,000 a month. He is of a roving disposition, however, and cannot remain long in one place. He always wants to move on, and that's how he came to be in Paducah at present.

Mr. River was working the West with his invention, when the Circle City, Alaska, gold fever broke out. He had plenty of money, he claimed, and went out from San Francisco more as an experimenter than anything else. Klondike was then unknown, but there was gold everywhere almost. It cost several hundred dollars to reach Circle City, but no one seemed to care for money.

"I found everybody working hard," said Mr. River. "Men who worked for $16 a day and board were scarce, although they could easily get that. I guess that is because when a man reaches the gold fields he wants to start out for himself. He does not desire to work for somebody else, and for that reason hired workmen are scarce."

"There are no civil laws in Alaska, but the laws 'committee laws' they call them—are better and more effective than any system of government in any state, county or city in the Union. I have seen many a notice posted there with the names of those who have promulgated them, and skill and cross-bones attached. A man knows what to expect if he violates the laws. I saw one man hanged once for stealing two pounds of bacon. I don't say, however, that there are no thieves in Alaska, for there are. The penalty is simply so severe and so summarily enforced that the lawless are afraid to run any risks."

"One peculiar thing is that no Italians or Chinamen are allowed there. I saw them put a Chinaman on a couple of logs one day, load on ten days' provisions, and start him down the Yukon river. Sometimes, when a man commits an offense that they think does not merit hanging, they take a picture of him and send a copy to every camp in the county. That man can never again remain in Alaska. At every camp he is run out, until he finally reaches the end of the country."

"The thermometer is frequently 70 degrees below zero, but you can stand it much better than you can zero here in this climate. The difference is, it is still and dry, while here it is damp and wintry, and the frigidity goes right to the bones."

"In some parts of the year there I have seen 10,000 mosquitoes to the square inch. And the malaria is simply dreadful."

Mr. River gave a very interesting account of how they mine gold, with which most newspaper readers are familiar. Mr. River claims to have brought over from Alaska $75,000 in gold. He now seems to have plenty of money, and displays $50 gold certificates almost without number.

"I shall go to Klondike, which has come into great fame since I was in Alaska, next spring," he said. Mrs. Fraley, who was sitting nearby, admitted that she herself had aspirations to go Klondike, and said she would leave as Mr. River's wife when he starts for St. Louis tomorrow or Monday.

A LITTLE SLATE IS BROKEN.

More Facts and Rumors About the Caucus Muddle, Which Is Stirring Up the Democrats.

It Is Said That the Caucus Will Be Held Over, or Else Repudiated, and a Regular Election Held.

The Sun has previously stated that it was possible, if not probable, that the council-elect's slate would be broken before the time for putting it through comes, and judging from indications its surmise is correct. It appears that the longer some of the more conscientious members-elect think about this motley slate the more determined they are to have that caucus over, or else repudiate its proceedings when the election is entered into.

A ludicrous but perplexing problem now confronts some of the members. There were for one of the offices to be filled not less than twenty candidates, and fifteen of these, from data collected since the caucus, claim a majority on the first ballot, despite the fact that there were only twelve votes cast. The question is, who is "totin' water on both shoulders?" as a councilman himself puts it.

One candidate approached a member-elect the other day and said: "See here, I was a candidate before that caucus and I understand I didn't get a vote. Can you tell me how that was?"

"No, I can't," replied the councilman, "unless it was because there were seventeen candidates and only twelve councilmen to vote."

Another thing that may be destined to occasion trouble in the ranks is the selection of men to fill the places of lookup-keeper, license inspector, market master, and overseer of the chain-gang. Judging from Mayor-elect Lang's statement, the offices are to be made appointive instead of elective to conform to the idea of increasing the police force. It will then devolve upon him to make the appointments, although he intimates he agreed for the council to select the men for the places, and in fact the action of the council in nominating men for the places would indicate such an arrangement. Yet the Mayor would have to make the appointments, and the responsibility of them would rest entirely upon him. And there is considerable objection to some of the nominees.

But the slate itself is principally what occasioned the trouble. It is not popular, at least some of it is not. Democrats claim it is comprised of bolters, free silverites, Republicans, men with Populistic tendencies, and others.

"It looks like offering a premium to a man to bolt his party," he indignantly observed one prominent Democrat the other day.

One of the council-elects is quoted as saying that if a motion is made on the night of the election to go into an election of officers the caucus notwithstanding, it will carry by a vote of at least nine to three. Some of the members are sadder and wiser men, and are somewhat suspicious that somebody slipped up on them on the night of the caucus and is responsible for a slate that is so generally distasteful in some respects, not only to their constituents, but to many of the new councilmen themselves.

It is probable, judging from what one councilman says, that the slate will be broken in at least one instance, and this is in the selection of a city engineer. It appears that some of the councilmen-elect were convinced as early as the day following the caucus of the error in making a change in city engineers at this stage of the game, and will remedy it when the time comes.

AMPLY CONFIRMED.

European Ideas Verified in America.

The Most Important Subject of the Present Day Settled Beyond Question.

The cable dispatches which recently appeared in the daily papers indicating the great interest felt throughout Europe upon a subject of international interest have naturally awakened great attention, not to say excitement, in this city and throughout the land. It is a well known fact that the demands of modern life have caused a strain which seems to shorten life and undermine health universally. The efforts made abroad to investigate its cause are most commendable, and we are pleased to say have been supplemented by similar efforts in America. Careful inquiry has been made among prominent physicians, and it is surprising what uniformity of opinion is expressed by them all. That opinion seems to be that the great modern disease is kidney trouble, and that the kidneys are the first organs of the body to be attacked by over-exertion or over-indulgence, and the first to become weakened by the grip. That this is a most lamentable fact there can be no doubt, but that these troubles can be prevented and cured the investigations made abroad clearly show. In the interest of humanity we have made similar investigations, and the result is given herewith.

Dr. N. S. Davis said: "People do not know what Bright's disease is. The term is applied popularly to every trouble that even remotely affects the kidneys. There are two forms of the trouble—one an enlargement and the other a shrinking of the kidneys."

Dr. Frank T. Andrews says: "The term Bright's disease covers a great many complaints. In fact, any case of albuminuria is called Bright's disease. The majority of these cases are curable. The reason a man dies of kidney trouble is the inability of the organ to perform its functions."

Dr. S. Clarke declares: "There was a time when any man or woman suffering from any form of kidney trouble had cause for despair. That time has passed. For the past eight years I have treated every variety of kidney trouble in both men and women, and I do not believe there is a case so severe, no matter of how long standing, that it cannot be relieved or cured by the careful and conscientious use of Warner's Safe Cure."

Dr. Charles W. Purdy says: "There are many diseases grouped under the head of Bright's disease of the kidneys. One of the most serious forms is almost always accompanied by heart trouble which frequently causes the death of the patient. The acute form will kill the patient within a few years unless he receive proper treatment."

Dr. R. A. Gunn, dean of the United States Medical College, declares: "For years the treatment of Bright's disease has been largely experimental. I am independent enough and frank enough to commend most heartily that great remedy—Warner's Safe Cure."

Dr. A. B. Hosmer affirms: "Acute Bright's disease in children is curable. The kidneys, you see, are waste gates, and when they are partially closed trouble must result."

Dr. Tyre York, of Washington, D. C., asserts: "I think Warner's Safe Cure a great blessing to mankind, and if taken regularly will cure almost any disease of the kidneys. I prescribe it in my practice."

Dr. C. Warrington Beale, of Chicago, says: "Diseases of the kidneys may be slight or aggravated. The object to be attained is to limit the overworked and worn-out organs to as little exercise as possible."

Dr. John W. Mapes, of Paris, Ill., says: "I am a living example of the virtues of Warner's Safe Cure, without which I should long since have been dead."

Throughout the land, wherever investigation has been made, the sentiment seems to be the same. The above unquestioned and unquestionable testimony proves beyond a doubt that Bright's disease of the kidneys can be cured. Mr. Warner knew whereof he affirmed, for he himself had been cured of Bright's disease in its worst form. If any reader has peculiar pains, strange sensations or unaccountable feelings, which far too often announce the coming on of kidney trouble, there is no need to despair; there is every reason for hope. A cure has been found and proven beyond question or the possibility of a doubt.

Some wild eyed newspaper correspondent credits Bryan with the remark, "I am thinking of withdrawing from politics." With all due respect to the journalistic profession, of which we modestly imagine we are some, we believe that the above member of the fraternity lied.

The retirement of Sovereign as Master Workman of the Knights of Labor is a blow to the method of resolving labor disputes. Hicks, the new Master Workman, is a firm believer in arbitration of all disputes.

SECRETARY BLISS has evidently carried his business habits with him to the Interior Department. He has succeeded in getting down the estimates of his subordinates for the next fiscal year over $9,000,000. This is an effective way every time of fighting a deficit.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Much interest is felt in the public mind just now as to the prospective trude of President McKinley on the Cuban question. This anxiety is due to the fact that a war cloud would check, if not absolutely destroy, the business improvement among farmers, manufacturers and merchants which has been apparent since the McKinley administration came into operation.

The recent visit of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to Washington in behalf of closer relations between the United States and Canada is another evidence that the "protests" against our tariff were merely a bluff and that we have gained standing in the eyes of other countries by protecting our own, despite the fact that numerous protests against the act were presented during its consideration.

The doleful predictions which the forecasters were making at the prospective effect upon foreign markets, with reference to our own productions, likely to follow the enactment of the Dingley law, have not been fulfilled. On the contrary, August and September exportations from this country to the countries which made protests against our tariff amount to $131,446,393, while those of the corresponding months of last year under the Wilson law amounted to only $107,977,280.

The more satisfactory attitude of the Spanish government toward the Cuban insurgents is probably due, in some degree, at least, to the active work of the United States government in preventing the departure of filibustering expeditions from our shores.
The reply of Assistant Secretary Day to the communications of the Spanish government on this subject will show that eight vessels have been employed in this work, cruising over 75,000 miles in their police duties, capturing 100 vessels engaged in that work, and breaking up a number of other expeditions which were intended to operate from our ports in violation of our neutrality laws.

The Dingley law will greet its framers with a very gratifying showing for its four months' operation when they come together early in December for the work of the regular long session of Congress. Its earnings during the first four months have exceeded by several millions of dollars the earnings of the corresponding four months of the Wilson law, its November earnings reaching $25,000,000, which is more than 25 per cent in excess of the November earnings in the first year of the Wilson law, and the reciprocity arrangements made under its provisions promise to be far more useful and beneficial to our commerce than was the case even under the McKinley law which gave such general satisfaction in that particular.

THERE was an old Roman Senator once, Cato, we think, was his name, who made it a custom to end every speech he made in the Senate with the words, "Carthago delenda est" (Carthage must be destroyed.) In imitation to this old Senator's custom, there are a number of Kentucky orators and orators who end every speech with the words,
"The State and Iron Bitterly to Christiansity."—St. Louis State and Iron Bitterly to Christiansity. 246
120 S. Third St.

with him. But these Kentucky propagandists are almost entirely a one in their adoration of the inappropriate Hurricane of the West. These Kentucky silver Democratic self-appointed leaders are strictly out for what there is in it. Being dead game political sports, they are risking their all on the turn of one card. With Bryan elected in 1900, Kentucky will preside at the pie counter in great shape—in any other event their names will be Denis.

filled with good cheer and an appreciative throng, Tuesday evening marked it memorably in Paducah's social annals. The entire lower floor, consisting of four commodious rooms, were thrown open to the guests from eight until the wee small hours, and the fair maids, stately matrons and gallant knights dressed as in "ye olden times," with powdered tresses and patches gliding through the maze of the waiters, richly contributed to brighten the beauty of the scene.
Mrs. Burnett gave cordial welcome to each arrival in her own inimitable, gracious manner, ably seconded by the host, Mr. Burnett. Miss Sneed, the honoree of the fete, gowning in a superb creation, with her delightful personality and rare charm of manner, added greatly to the enjoyment of all.

Choice palms and potted plants adorned every available nook in the stately hall, while to the handsome dining room rare cut flowers added their spicy charm. From stentor vases they nodded a glowing welcome, while floods of light and fine damask, a gleam in silver, glass and united confections converted the banquet room into a thing of most sumptuous beauty. The menu was elaborate and faultless.

The most enjoyable and cleverly executed cotillion of the season was danced Thanksgiving evening at the Palmer House, by the young men in society and their friends, under the fetiing leadership of Mr. Cook Husbands. Both the married and single sets were in attendance, and the many elegant toilets worn denoted that the winter's gay season is well under way. The merry dancers were: Misses Humble Adams, Susan Sneed, Genevieve Cook, Mary Burnett, Mary Boswell, Mary Kimbo Sowell, Mary Terrell, Floss Owen, Martha Leech, Jane Rivers, Mickey Hansbro, Alice Sanders, Elizabeth Segenfelter, Emma Reed, Emma Mc-Knight, Madams Burnett, Husbands, Langstaff, Leech, Campbell, Wilcox, Gregory, Johnson Morris, Cox. Messrs. Wade and Trabue, of Nashville; Aldridge, Henry Powell, Morris Nash, Roy Culley, Will Farley, Hense Harris, Dr. George Fid-dyment, Richard Rudy, Fred Mc-Knight, Wallace Weil, Harry Tandy, Harris Rankin, Edwin Wilson, Abe Weil, Albert Foster, James Brooks, Harry Gilbert, Irvin Cobb, Cook Husbands, George Langstaff, I. D.
Wilcox, J. C. Leech, O. L. Gregory, Walter Johnson, Chas. Morris, John Campbell, Moscoe Burnett, Chas.
Reed.

The members of the Young Ladies' Circles Club held another one of their delightful meetings Wednesday afternoon. Miss Clara Thompson entertained the club at her home on South Sixth street, and a most enjoyable time was had. The players kept score by tying little ribbons of many colors on the handles of small spades, picks and pitchforks, that took the place of tally cards. Miss Martha Leech, Mrs. English and Mrs. Fred Rudy tied for first prize, a sterling silver hat pin studded with jewels. The visitor's prize, a silver pin tray, was awarded to Miss Mickey Hansbro.

Mr. Henry Burnett has issued invitations to an afternoon reception, from 3 to 6, on Thursday, December 2.

The choir boys of Grace church were entertained very pleasantly Thanksgiving evening with a social given at the Episcopal church. Ice and cake were served and small miniatures of the church were presented to each member of the choir.

The Married Ladies' Euchre club will hold a meeting Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. George Thompson, on West Broadway.

It has not been decided whether the Young Ladies' Circle club will have a meeting Wednesday or not, owing to the inability of the young lady that was to have taken the club next to have it meet with her on Wednesday.

Complimentary to Mayor-elect Lang the Eastman club gave an elaborate spread Thanksgiving evening, in their club rooms, on Seventh and Clay streets.

Thursday evening, from 6 to 11, Mrs. W. A. Rooks entertained her friends at her home, on Clark and Fifth streets. Music, both vocal and instrumental, was the feature of the evening, and an elegant repast was enjoyed by the guests.

INTERESTING STORY OF AN IRON EGG.
Of an iron egg in the Berlin Museum the following story is told: Many years ago a prince became allured to a lovely princess, to whom he promised to send a magnificent gift as testimony of his affection. In due time the messenger arrived, bringing the promised gift, which proved to be an iron egg. The princess was so angry to think that the prince should send her so valueless a present that she threw it upon the floor, when the iron egg opened, disclosing a silver lining. Surprised at such a discovery, she took the egg in her hand, and while examining it closely, discovered a secret spring, which she touched, and the silver lining opened, disclosing a golden yolk. Examining it closely again she found another spring, which, when opened, disclosed within the golden yolk a ruby crown. Subjecting that to an examination she touched a tiny spring, and forth came the superb diamond ring with which he affianced her to himself.

FOR THE PENNANT.
"Twas a battle 'twixt the oysters and the bean pots, fierce and wild;
'Twas a scrapping match of large dimensions too,
But the bean pots were victorious and with scientific ease They placed the gentle oysters in a stew."

WHERE SILENCE MUST FAIL.
"Why do you think horseless carriages will never wholly supplant our present style of vehicle?" asked a loquacious young gentleman in the city to a fastidious friend.
"Because," said he, "no horseless carriage will ever get scared at a locomotive, run up on the bank at the side of the road and make the sweet girl along side of a fellow throw her arms around him and cry, 'Oh, George, what shall we do!'"

If you hurt a man's pride he will probably go off and sulk a little for a greater or less time; or it may be, if the case is awfully bad, he will even kill himself. With a woman it is not the same. To tamper with a woman's self-esteem is a dangerous thing, for she will play for even. She may imagine she is impotent, but there is this much of the Oriental in woman—that she can wait. But her heart and she will still let it in the dust for you to trample upon and the pain will be pleasant. Beware how you so much as scratch her pride; from the wound will flow a stream of poison that may drip slowly but will reach you in the long run.

There is a certain drummer in the city who objects most seriously to his better half spending so many afternoons at the meetings of the different clubs when he is in town. One afternoon after an exciting game of cards she, possessing a superabundance of hilarious feelings, rushed into her boudoir and found her husband calmly and serenely playing solitaire.
"Well," said she, jollying him along,
"when I see a man sit and play solitaire all the afternoon I always think he must like himself pretty well."

"Yes," said he, "and it looks as though he had monopoly in it too."

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. L. Friedman returned Friday morning from a trip to Georgia.

Mr. Lothair Smith has returned to Louisville, after spending Thanksgiving in the city.

Mr. Rob Noble has returned from St. Louis.

Mr. James Clements is in St. Louis on business.

Messrs. Trabue and Wade, who came from Nashville to attend the Thanksgiving cotillion left for their home Friday morning.

Miss Mary K. Sowell returned Thursday from Birmingham and Nashville after a month's absence.

Miss Mary Wayne Murphy, of Fulton, Ky., is expected next week to visit Miss Annie May Yeiser at Afton Heights.

Mr. Chas. Reed and daughter, Miss Emma, and Miss Elizabeth Segenfelter leave Tuesday for St. Louis on a short visit.

Miss Jennie V. Cook, after a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Lloyd Boswell, left Friday for her home in Fulton.

Miss Geraldine Sanders returned Thursday from Louisville, after an extended visit.

Mr. Hart Caldwell is in the city.

Mr. Arthur Board left for Arkansas Wednesday evening.

leave Monday for Washington, D. C., to be absent until August.

Miss Elizabeth Sianott went to Evansville Wednesday on a visit to Miss Venneman.

Miss Charles Humphreys is in the city.

Miss Daisy Goodwin has returned from Sturgis.

Mr. and Mrs. Moscoe Burnett have as their guest Miss Susan Sneed, of Henderson, Ky.

THE THREE RIVERS.

Items of Marine News Picked Up on the Levee of Interest to All.

River men are rejoicing over the excellent prospects for a good size river on very short notice, and a good boating stage is expected throughout the winter season.

Parties are negotiating for the purchase of the tug Lamasco from Capt.
Rouse.

The river once more has the appearance of a navigable stream after several months of having been almost an abandoned one.

Engineer Al Mason, of the harbor boat Mary N., is stopping off a few days owing to the illness of his wife.

The Leyte fleet will begin arriving here next week from St. Louis to enter winter quarters. The Spread Eagle will be one of the first to arrive.

Owing to the inclement weather the dry docks were idle yesterday afternoon.

The crew of the United States snag boat, C. R. Suter, which is in winter shelter, here, returned to St. Louis yesterday to remain until she is ordered out in the spring.

The Clyde, from St. Louis, arrived here this morning with a big cargo of freight for Tennessee river points, which she transferred to the Tennessee. She returned to St. Louis this afternoon.

The river is rising here at a lively rate, climbing up the bank eight inches in the last twelve hours, making the gauge read 5.4 this morning.
Big water is now expected by river men.

The Polar Wave arrived here from Cairo last night with the remainder of her tow, part of which she brought up Thursday. She will go into retirement here for the winter.

The City of Clarksville was away for Elizabethtown today at noon doing a fair business.

The handiwork as well as the fastest steamer that plys the mighty Ohio, the Dick Fowler, was out for Cairo this morning doing quite an active business.

Engineer Albert Mason, Jr., who has been on one of the Leythe's many steamers in the Mississippi River for the past several seasons, has returned home here owing that his boat has retired from her trade for the winter season.

Business along the river yesterday, owing to the extremely bad weather, was exceedingly quiet, with but very little change this morning. There was, however, some freight handled to the Dick Fowler for the lower Ohio. Traffic promises to be more active this afternoon, as there is considerable freight for Tennessee River points to be shipped on the steamer Tennessee.

The steamer Tennessee arrived here out of the Tennessee river yesterday afternoon with a big miscellaneous trip consisting of cattle, pen-nents, lumber and poultry. She will leave this afternoon on her return trip up the Tennessee and is expected to carry an excellent load.

The towboat City of Chattanooga is due here today from Elizabethtown with a big tow of ties, thus inaugurating the business in this vicinity this season. Capt. Emory Voight has charge of the wheel.

The poultry-boat Lorna Doone leaves here Monday for Tennessee river points to buy up all the poultry and eggs available. Her owners are negotiating for another boat to go up the Cumberland river as soon as there is sufficient water. Capt. Emory Voight will have charge of the Lorna Doone and expects to keep her busy throughout the winter months.

Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey advances a new theory in the treatment of all cough, lung and bronchial troubles. It cures and cures quickly. Absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. It cuts loose the mucous without exertion or straining and stops the cough at once. It gives vigor and vitality to the respiratory organs. It enables the blood to receive the proper supply of oxygen.
It builds up the system, rendering it less susceptible to cold.

Cures to Stay Cured.
Thousands of voluntary certificates received during the past fifteen years testify with no uncertain sound, that Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.) will cure to stay cured, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Ulcers, Sores, Blotches, and the most malignant blood and skin diseases. Botanic Blood Balm is the result of forty years experience of an eminent, scientific and conscientious physician. Send stamp for book of wonderful cures, and learn which is the best remedy. Beware of substitutes said to be "just as good" and buy the long-tested and old reliable Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.).
Price only $1.00 per large bottle.

REFLECTED AN ENTIRE CURE.
For over two years I have been a great sufferer from Rheumatism, affecting both shoulders to such an extent that I could not put my coat on without help. The use of six bottles of Botanic Blood Balm, B. B. B., effected an entire cure. I refer to

"Pride of the Purchase"

A high grade, patent flour—home-made. You will like it.
Try it and be convinced.

"Success"

A strict patent, second only to P. P. Use is proof. Make the test.

"Snow Drift,"

A good, Straight Grade—None better made.

"Daisy,"

A good, honest, strictly choice flour. Also
Pure, Fresh Corn Meal
Made of select corn.

All manufactured and for sale by the undersigned.
Second-hand flour barrels, our own preferred, bought for cash at our cooper shop across the street.

We pay the highest cash price for wheat and corn. We also sell corn, bran and chicken feed and exchange any and everything in our line for wheat or corn.

Come to see us, or communicate with us, Street No. 220, South First, Telephone No. 356.

We spend our money at home for the raw material! Let us have some of it back for the manufactured article, so that we can continue to do business ourselves and at the same time help you. The money we pay out for grain and labor mostly stops in town, and the more our own people consume of our output the more we can make a market for home-grown breadstuffs and home labor. Business makes money circulate, one transaction helps another, and so it passes from hand to hand, and the community is helped. Yours for good times,

EDITOR J. B. WRIGHT.

Publisher Gazette Restored to Health by Paine's Celery Compound.

The Haverhill Gazette, now in the front rank of newspapers, stands for the journalistic ability of one man.

John B. Wright impressed his strong personality on the paper from the day that he secured control.

His accurate sense of news and steady judgment of men and events has built up the Haverhill Gazette to its present newspaper leadership of northern Massachusetts.

Editor Wright's long and brilliant work on the Boston Herald as chief of the department of "special writers" has all been utilized in the building up of this successful newspaper. It will surprise no one that getting out a big newspaper, like the Gazette, morning after morning and year after year, in the heat and smoke of fierce political conflicts, should entail great mental and physical strain.

Incessant work told on Editor Wright; but because he made use at once of Paine's celery compound, he is today fully restored to his old-time forceful, vigorous habit of mind and body. He says of this great remedy:

Haverhill, Mass., Oct. 8, 1897.—Gentlemen: It is with great pleasure that I bear testimony to the beneficial results which almost invariably follow the use of that kind of all remedies—Paine's celery compound. As a tonic, free from deleterious material, it has, to my way of thinking, no equal. This remedy is a positive boon to all nerve-wrecked men of business. I unhesitatingly commend it to all persons who are, as I was, thoroughly worn out. Very truly yours, JOHN B. WRIGHT.

WRITTEN AT RANDOM.

An ambitious young writer in the News is attempting to revive the hackneyed yarn about John Wilkes Booth being alive, and that he never was captured and killed. Young man, take a fool's advice and desist!

About two years ago the Random scribbler tried to do the same thing, but with disastrous results. If you want to hear the story it can soon be told.

An old "quire" from over here in Stringtown, Ill., came to Paducah one day and told some of his intimate friends that he had just received a letter from John Wilkes Booth, who was in Brazil, making a fortune out of coffee. The story soon leaked out, and the writer, in newspaper parlance, was "put next" by some of his friends. Not desiring to get "scooped," he published the story first and went over to see the grizzled "quire" and verify it afterwards. The story attracted some little attention, and was widely copied. Soon orders began coming in from St. Louis, Louisville, Chicago and Cincinnati papers for a copy or photograph of the letter, and the complete story of how it was received. It was then that the editor reported decided to himself over into the wilds of Illinois and interview the "quire" himself. Brooklyn was reached by ferry, and then, learning that Stringtown was about "five miles" away, he started thither a-foot, being totally ignorant of the length of those Illinois miles. Through dust and briars, over hills and down dales, dodging hostile canines and being confronted by all sorts of sinister states, he finally concluded that the further he went the further away he got from Stringtown. But about noon two or three horses were in sight on the horizon, and there was Stringtown! The "quire" was given a generous pull at a phlegmatic bottle to loosen his loquacity, and inch by inch the overwhelming truth was extracted that the old man had hardly ever heard the name of John Wilkes Booth. Another pull at the bottle elicited the fact that he told the story for fun, and when the misguided reporter finally reached home about sundown, he was a sadder and a wiser dupe. The only consolation he ever got out of it was that a few days later an unfortunate staff correspondent from St. Louis, sent out by a paper there, underwent the same experience.

Therefore, ambitious young News man don't try to start the Booth story. It awakens unpleasant memories!

The other day, before Coroner Nance buried the remains of "Devil" Winston, the negro who was hanged here, he concluded to have a couple of pictures taken of the corpse. He Paine's celery compound creates a wholesome demand for food, and cures a disordered stomach and costive bowels.

For all ailments and weaknesses that have grown out of defects of nutrition, such as nervousness, loss of strength, thin and pale blood, loss of weight and lowness of spirits, Paine's celery compound is the legitimate and logical cure. It overcomes loss of nervous power and lessened power to digest food, by generously feeding the nerves and regulating their action. It banishes that continual tired feeling by cleansing the blood of clogging impurities, and by stirring the kidneys and other purifying organs to healthful activity.

Paine's celery compound has cured many and many cases of dyspepsia, sleeplessness, disordered liver and stomach, and has puzzled physicians, and the outcome of which seemed hopeless.

Many obstinate dyspeptic persons have gotten rid of every distressing symptom by its invigorating help. Grave general defects of nutrition that have shown themselves in a wasted condition, weakness and loss of strength, have repeatedly yielded to this remarkable remedy.

The worst face, that attests loss of sleep, soon loses its haggard appearance as the nervous system gets nourished by Paine's celery compound; the accumulation of aches and pains vanishes, the blood grows ruddy and abundant, and the mind shines in the well-being felt all over the body. Paine's celery compound should be taken by every person "run down" or nervous.

took the stiffened remains and stood them up against a pile of empty pine boxes. Down came the frigid body, but it was caught and stood up again, and the Coroner drove a few tacks through the coat sleeves to the boxes, and there stood "Devil" as natural as life!

A picture was taken with the eyes closed, and the Coroner then concluded to take one with the eyes open. He found the lustreless orbs would not remain exposed, however, and went after a bottle of nuchage. In the meantime a country boy had come in and was watching, with open-mouthed astonishment, the unusual operation.

The Coroner found that the lids could not be readily stuck back, and for fun looked back over his shoulder at the boy and said: "Here, boy, come here and hold these eyes open, I'm a little nervous."

With an exclamation of horror the youth removed his hands from his pockets, and simply flew, hardly stopping to open the door. The other picture was taken without the boy's assistance, and if he's ever been to town since he hasn't showed up about the undertaking establishment.

One of the best practical jokes ever perpetrated on one of the legal fraternity is now being enjoyed by the lawyers on legal row. Attorney Dave Cross, who was a candidate for City prosecuting attorney, in the late primary, was the unhappy victim.

Several days ago two boys, Tom and Mack Bean, were brought in from the country to be tried before Justice Winchester for appropriating a watermelon from the patch of a neighbor. Their lawyer was Attorney Cross, who made a good speech in their behalf, but the evidence against them being very conclusive, they were fined. The magistrate, however, complimented the lawyer very highly on his speech. Their attorney moved for a new hearing, and the motion was to be argued at 10 o'clock yesterday forenoon in Justice Winchester's office.

The young men, it seems, after a second thought, concluded they had gotten off lightly enough, and yesterday morning came to the city, made a few preliminary arrangements with the court, paid their fines and the costs, and returned home.

They failed to apprise their attorney of their action, however, and yesterday afternoon he dropped into the magistrate's office and meeting County Attorney Houser insisted that the time set for arguing the motion was then instead of before noon. After some controversy the county attorney consented to "argue it then and there, and suggested that Mr. Cross speak first. Attorney Cross proceeded to work. Inspired by the commendation he received from the magistrate over his first speech in the case, he waded into the subject with all the law, evidence and eloquence he could command. It was with difficulty that those present could restrain their merriment. After the attorney had exhausted every argument in support of the motion for a new trial, he sat down, having spoken about an hour and a half.

With unwavering dignity the county attorney arose, and said, briefly, that while his predecessor had made an able argument, he didn't see any use in consuming any more of the court's time over a case which he understood had already been settled, all the fines and costs paid, and everybody satisfied—but the defendants' lawyer.

It soon dawned on the attorney that the court had played a joke on him, and he is said to have been very indignant at magistrate, county attorney and his audience for assisting in the little farce comedy.

Prof. F. H. Gentry, the famous dog and pony trainer, was in the city yesterday en route home to spend the winter. Both of his shows have gone into winter quarters.

"Don't your animals forget some of their tricks and get out of practice during the winter?" a reporter asked him.

"No," he replied, "we never touch them during the winter. They seem to retain everything with wonderful accuracy, and when we start out in the spring they are as fresh and lively as if they had been performing every day. Sometimes their trainer does not see them for months, yet we never have to rehearse them."

"Don't you sometimes have trouble with the more vicious members of your happy family?" somebody asked him.

"Not a particle," he rejoined. "I never had a dog hurt by fighting in my life that I know of, except a pug dog that had its eye torn out here in Paducah when the show was here."

Prof. Gentry reports a prosperous season, and returns to enjoy a well earned holiday.

Otis Skinner is booked for Morton's opera house on Monday, Dec. 10. "Kismet," with Frank Novocross manager, canceled a date here last Tuesday.

An evil which the dramatic authorities in big cities have decided is far worse than the theater hat is the habit of coming late to a performance. More people are in this way disturbed far worse than in any other, and there is even less excuse for it than the theater hat nuisance. The matter is now being agitated with a view to a spring legislation against the evil, and the dramatic papers are taking a lively interest in it.

"Don't you think that it is time that some preparations were being made for the proper observance of Emancipation Day?" said a well known teacher of the Lincoln school, to the writer the other day. Continuing he said: "It seems that if we are going to celebrate the day at all, we ought to do it at the proper time, and we ought to be preparing for a grand time on January 1st, 1898."

The stewardesses board realized, clear of all expenses, on their Thanksgiving dinner, $15.47. This is a handsome sum and the stewardesses deserve credit for their work for the benefit of their pastor, Rev. G. H. Burks.

Mesdames Nelson, Mitcherson and Brooks went out on a mission of mercy to see Miss Annie Allison last week, who is still on the sick list.

Mrs. Mattie Brooks is very ill at her home on Adams street with neuralgia.

Very successful Thanksgiving services were held at the C. P. church last Thursday.

The Eureka Literary Society met last evening at the First Ward Baptist church. The attendance was small, owing to the festivities of the evening previous having kept the people up late, together with the very inclement weather we are having. The society will meet next Thursday evening at the same place.

There should be a proper celebration of Emancipation Day in this city January 1st, '98, and we would suggest that the churches lead in the matter and see that the day has a proper observance. This marks the most important epoch in the history of the race and it is fitting that it be commemorated in an appropriate manner.

In Christian county, Ky., at the last election, Messrs. Jas. Allensworth and J. W. Knight were elected coroner and constable respectively, and in Hopkinsville, Mr. E. W. Glass was elected a member of the city council. Many of us know these splendid gentlemen. The latter was once yeo editor of the tutor.

The aunt of Prof. Chas. H. Parrish, president of Extensive Norton University, Mrs. America Henry, died at her home in Louisville on the 10th inst. Her funeral was very largely attended at Fifth St. church, that city of which she was a devoted member.

No special announcements have been received and it is to be believed that all churches will hold their regular services tomorrow.

A true Christian is a representative of Christ in the world, the only embodiment of gospel teaching and influence presented in human society. How vitally important is it, then, that these of us who profess and call ourselves Christians should make our Christianity attractive.

The Epworth League meets tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, at Burks' Chapel. The subject of discussion is "Thanksgiving." Come out.

Rev. R. C. Fagar, the traveling missionary, will preach tomorrow at the C. P. church at 11 o'clock a. m. and 7 p. m. All members and friends are expected in attendance.

The entertainment given to the La Tosca Cinque Club last evening by Mrs. Jno. W. Moore was a thoroughly enjoyable affair, and was notable for being one of the most recherche of the season. Mrs. Moore has ever been an ideal hostess, and Friday's affair gave more evidence of her tact and originality. The prizes were won by Miss Cora May Carter and Mr. Frank Logan, while the consolation was awarded to Dr. W. H. Nelson.

WASHINGTON STREET CHURCH.

The officers of the Washington Street Baptist church are to be congratulated upon their wise selection of a pastor, in the person of Rev. J. W. Hawkins, of Frankfort, Ky. While they were receiving letters from all parts of the state and several other states making application for the church, yet they acted very discreetly in their judgment, and through the wise suggestion of Rev. Smothers, in selecting Rev. Hawkins. In response to a call Elder Hawkins paid the church a visit November 27 and preached two sermons. He seems to be a thorough-going and a progressive man, one who is up to date on all things. With Elder Hawkins at the helm, backed by the entire force of the church, it won't be long before the church will be out of debt. The exercises given Thanksgiving night were a credit to the church and should be held oftener. Prof. Nickols, my old schoolmate made a fine talk, giving the origin of Thanksgiving, in 1620, by the Pilgrims. Miss Florence Hayes' solo captured the house; she has such a clear, sweet tone, and is nearly perfect. I must not forget to mention the Kentucky Rosebud Quartette, composed of Messrs. Powell, Fauntleroy, Coleman and Steel. These young men deserve much credit for their excellent singing. It was just grand, and if they had proper training I dare say that their equal could not be found. S. A. SLAYDEN.

EDITOR J. B. WRIGHT.

Publisher Gazette Restored to Health by Paine's Celery Compound.

The Haverhill Gazette, now in the front rank of newspapers, stands for the journalistic ability of one man.

John B. Wright impressed his strong personality on the paper from the day that he secured control.

His accurate sense of news and steady judgment of men and events has built up the Haverhill Gazette to its present newspaper leadership of northern Massachusetts.

Editor Wright's long and brilliant work on the Boston Herald as chief of the department of "special writers" has all been utilized in the building up of this successful newspaper. It will surprise no one that getting out a big newspaper, like the Gazette, morning after morning and year after year, in the heat and smoke of fierce political conflicts, should entail great mental and physical strain.

Incessant work told on Editor Wright; but because he made use of Paine's celery compound, he is today fully restored to his old-time forceful, vigorous habit of mind and body. He says of this great remedy:

Haverhill, Mass., Oct. 8, 1897.—Gentlemen: It is with great pleasure that I bear testimony to the beneficial results which almost invariably follow the use of that kind of all remedies—Paine's celery compound. As a tonic, free from deleterious material, it has, to my way of thinking, no equal. This remedy is a positive boon to all nerve-wrecked men of business. I unhesitatingly commend it to all persons who are, as I was, thoroughly worn out. Very truly yours, JOHN B. WRIGHT.

WRITTEN AT RANDOM.

About two years ago the Random scribbler tried to do the same thing, but with disastrous results. If you want to hear the story it can soon be told:

An old "squire" from over here in Stringtown, Ill., came to Paducah one day and told some of his intimate friends that he had just received a letter from John Wilkes Booth, who was in Brazil, making a fortune out of office. The story soon leaked out, and the writer, in newspaper parlance, was "put next" by some of his friends. Not desiring to get "scooped," he published the story first and went over to see the grizzled "squire" and verify it afterwards. The story attracted some little attention, and was widely copied. Soon orders began coming in from St. Louis, Louisville, Chicago and Cincinnati papers for a copy or photograph of the letter, and the complete story of how it was received. It was then that the callow reporter decided to hide himself over into the wilds of Illinois and interview the "squire" himself. Brooklyn was reached by ferry, and then, learning that Stringtown was about "two miles" away, he started thither a-foot, being totally ignorant of the length of those Illinois miles. Through dust and briars, over hills and down dales, dodging hostile canines and being confronted by all sorts of sinister stares, he finally concluded that the further he went the further away he got from Stringtown. But about noon two or three houses hove in sight on the horizon, and there was Stringtown! The "squire" was given a generous pull at a pebbly bottle to loosen his loquacity, and inch by inch the overwhelming truth was extracted that the old man had hardly ever heard the name of John Wilkes Booth. Another pull at the bottle elicited the fact that he and the story for fun, and when the misguided reporter finally reached home about sundown, he was a sadder and a wiser dupe. The only consolation he ever got out of it was that a few days later an unfortunate staff correspondent from St. Louis, sent out by a paper there, underwent the same experience.

Mrs. Mattie Brooks is very ill at her home on Adams street with neuralgia.

Very successful Thanksgiving services were held at the C. P. church last Thursday.

The Eureka Literary Society met last evening at the First Ward Baptist church. The attendance was small, owing to the festivities of the evening previous having kept the people up late, together with the very inclement weather we are having. The society will meet next Thursday evening at the same place.

There should be a proper celebration of Emancipation Day in this city January 1st, '98, and we would suggest that the churches lead in the matter and see that the day has a proper observance. This marks the most important epoch in the history of the race and it is fitting that it be commemorated in an appropriate manner.

In Christian church, Ky., at the last election, Messrs. Jas. Allensworth and J. W. Knight were elected corner and constable respectively, and in Hopkinsville, Mr. E. W. Glass was elected a member of the city council. Many of us know these splendid gentlemen. The latter was once ye editor's tutor.

The aunt of Prof. Chas. H. Parrish, president of Extensive Norton University, Mrs. America Henry, died at her home in Louisville on the 19th inst. Her funeral was very largely attended at Fifth St. church, that city of which she was a devoted member.

No special announcements have been received and it is to be believed that all churches will hold their regular services tomorrow.

A true Christian is a representative of Christ in the world, the only embodiment of gospel teaching and influence presented in human society. How vitally important is it, then, that those of us who profess and call ourselves Christians should make our Christianity attractive.

The Epworth League meets tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, at Burks' Chapel. The subject of discussion is "Thanksgiving." Come out.

Rev. R. C. Fugar, the traveling missionary, will preach tomorrow at the C. P. church at 11 o'clock a. m. and 7 p. m. All members and friends are expected in attendance.

The entertainment given to the La Tosca Cinque Club last evening by Mrs. Jno. W. Moore was a thoroughly enjoyable affair, and was notable for being one of the most recherche of the season. Mrs. Moore has ever been an ideal hostess, and Friday's affair gave more evidence of her tact and originality. The prizes were won by Miss Cora May Carter and Mr. Frank Logan, while the consolation was awarded to Dr. W. H. Nelson.

WASHINGTON STREET CHURCH. The officers of the Washington Street Baptist church are to be congratulated upon their wise selection of a pastor, in the person of Rev. J. W. Hawkins, of Frankfort, Ky. While they were receiving letters from all parts of the state and several other states making application for the church, yet they acted very discreetly in their judgment, and through the wise suggestion of Rev. Smothers, in selecting Rev. Hawkins. In response to a call Elder Hawkins paid the church a visit November 27 and preached two sermons. He seems to be a thorough-going and a progressive man, one who is up to date on all things. With Elder Hawkins at the helm, backed by the entire force of the church, it won't be long before the church will be out of debt. The exercises given Thanksgiving night were a credit to the church and should be held oftener. Prof. Nuckols, my old schoolmate made a fine talk, giving the origin of Thanksgiving, in 1620, by the Pilgrims. Miss Florence Hayes' solo captured the house; she has such a clear, sweet tone, and is nearly perfect. I must not forget to mention the Kentucky Rosebud Quartette, composed of Messrs. Powell, Fauntleroy, Coleman and Steel. These young men deserve much credit for their excellent singing. It was just grand, and if they had proper training I dare say that their equal could be found.

This morning an examination was made of the body. It was found that two wounds on the head, apparently produced by the locomotive's pilot, were all he had received. His body was intact. In his watch pocket he carried some matches, but there was nothing else to be found on his person, not a scrap of paper, knife, or a cent of money. The man was dressed fairly well, and judging from the overalls he wore, was a laborer.

No one knew him, and the jury, after hearing what little evidence there was to hear, rendered a verdict that he was accidentally killed by the locomotive.

Walter Gunderker, of Davenport, Ia., was given lodging at city hall last night by Chief Singery. He said he was en route to Memphis to secure work, and had been three weeks on his journey from Louisville. He displayed an identification card. A rule has been adopted to harbor no tramps, but it is left to the discretion of Chief Singery whether or not to accommodate an apparently worthy tramp.

Dr. R. R. Winston was painfully bruised yesterday by an accident at Seventh and Broadway. A colored hack driver drove into him and partially wrecked the doctor's fine buggy. With characteristic indifference the Jehu drove on and the doctor held on to the pieces until he was thrown out.

J. L. Manning, a section hand on the N. C. & St. L., while crossing the Twelfth and Norton street trestle last night, discovered the mangled remains of an unknown colored man, who met death on the track. The supposition is that he was run down by the passenger train which arrived at 10 o'clock last night.

The victim's legs dangled down through the ties, with his body between the rails. His skull was crushed, and on the back of his head was a large cut. The wind blew the blood that flowed from his wounds in a stream about 20 feet south of the trestle.

The N. C. & St. L. men were immediately notified, and a search party went out with lanterns. Corner Nance was notified and took charge of the remains, which were carried to his stable and left over night.

Dr. R. R. Winston was painfully bruised yesterday by an accident at Seventh and Broadway. A colored hack driver drove into him and partially wrecked the doctor's fine buggy. With characteristic indifference the Jehu drove on and the doctor held on to the pieces until he was thrown out.

J. L. Manning, a section hand on the N. C. & St. L., while crossing the Twelfth and Norton street trestle last night, discovered the mangled remains of an unknown colored man, who met death on the track. The supposition is that he was run down by the passenger train which arrived at 10 o'clock last night.

The victim's legs dangled down through the ties, with his body between the rails. His skull was crushed, and on the back of his head was a large cut. The wind blew the blood that flowed from his wounds in a stream about 20 feet south of the trestle.

The N. C. & St. L. men were immediately notified, and a search party went out with lanterns. Corner Nance was notified and took charge of the remains, which were carried to his stable and left over night.

awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair. Gold Medal, Midwinter Fair.
